

$\times$	$\square$	$\square$
$\square$	$\square$	$\square$
$\square$	$\square$	$\square$

Note that this table is identical to the addition table for zeroes.

Even more curiously, $0 \times 0^q = 0^q$ so that the familiar rule that $0 \times A = 0$ for any A does NOT hold here.