

Gerda and Burkhard Heim II

- From 1950 onward, Gerda:
 - Types all scientific manuscripts, including equations dictated from memory,
 - Reads physics literature aloud every day,
 - Manages correspondence and helps with theoretical proofreading,
 - Creates a stable environment that enables Heim's uninterrupted research.
- She remains by his side for over 50 years. In her memoir, she writes: "Ich war seine Stimme, seine Hände, seine Brücke zur Welt." ("I was his voice, his hands, his bridge to the world.")

Together in daily life, travel, and work
